THE STORY

Shortly after Boddy Black's murder at Tudor Mansion, you get a call from Callan Coral, the manager of the Black Adder Resort (a resort that happens to be owned by the now deceased Mr. Black). He invites you to fly there to lay low while the authorities conduct their investigation.

Moments after you get off the plane, however, you discover some unwelcome company—your fellow guests from the night Mr. Black was killed. The next night, while you're enjoying the warm weather outdoors, a storm rolls in and you head inside—only to find a series of dangerous traps has been laid there! Someone among you doesn't trust Mr. Coral, and they're out for his blood. You don't want another murder on your hands, so you'll have to work together to keep him alive and discover who the culprit could be.

OBJECT OF THE GAME

CLUE CONSPIRACY is a game of lies, sabotage, and deductive reasoning in which players are on opposing teams: Conspiracy members and Friends. There are three ways to end the game and each offers a unique way to win. See END OF THE GAME.

To win as a Conspiracy member:

- Your main goal is to carry out a murder Plot that takes place in a specific Location with a specific Weapon.
- In case you can't carry out the Plot, try to murder Mr. Coral by setting off Traps around the resort.

To win as a Friend of Mr. Coral:

- Your main goal is to keep Mr. Coral alive by preventing the Conspiracy's Plot and eliminating all the Traps on the board.
- In case Mr. Coral dies by Traps, you should also try to determine who is the Conspiracy Ringleader, what Weapon the Ringleader wants to use, and the Location where they ultimately plan to murder Mr. Coral. If you can determine the WHO, WHERE, and WHAT, you can turn the Conspiracy into the authorities, clear your own names, and win the game.

SET THE PLOT

9. Separate the deck of Clue Cards into three piles:

- Locations
- Weapons
- Instant Disarms and No Clue Found Cards

10. Shuffle the deck of Location Clue Cards. Draw one and place it facedown on the CLUE CONSPIRACY logo. This is the Plot Location: the place where the Conspiracy will try to murder Mr. Coral!

11. Draw a second Location Clue Card and place it facedown near the board. The Location shown there is SAFETY (it can't be part of the Plot) and can be used later to start the game.

12. Add one Instant Disarm and one No Clue Found Card to the rest of the Location Clue Cards and shuffle them together. Deal one card facedown on each of the nine Locations around the board.

13. Shuffle the deck of Weapon Clue Cards. Draw one and place it facedown on top of the Location card closest to the CLUE CONSPIRACY logo. This is the Plot Weapon: what the Conspiracy will try to use to murder Mr. Coral!

14. Take the rest of the Weapons, Instant Disarms, and No Clue Found Cards, shuffle them together, and deal one card facedown on each of the nine Locations around the board.

15. Trap Tiles are double-sided, see diagram below. Place one Trap on top of each pile of Clue Cards in a Location, including the "safe" Location) and make sure the side that's faceup matches the number of players.

PREPARE TO PLAY

The Conspiracy's Plot to kill Mr. Coral consists of a:

- Ringleader (WHO)
- Location (WHERE)
- Weapon (WHAT)

The Secret Role cards passed out during set up determined WHO is the Ringleader and the two cards now laying face down on the board represent the WHERE and WHAT. Now it's time to bring it all together and have the Ringleader share the Plot with their Accomplices.

THE CONSPIRACY HATCHES THEIR PLOT

Choose a random player to narrate the following steps out loud—they'll either need to memorize these steps or use the companion app. See the QR code on the second page of this booklet!

1. Everyone, close your eyes. Shuffle your feet and make some background noise.
2. Conspiracy members (the Ringleader and Accomplices), open your eyes and acknowledge the other Conspiracy members.
3. Ringleader, flip over the Plot cards on the board, and show them to your Accomplices. Memorize the Location and Weapon then put both cards in your Identity Envelope.
4. Ringleader and Accomplices, close your eyes.
5. Everyone, open your eyes.

PLAYER ROLES

There are two kinds of roles in this game:

- Secret Roles (Friends, The Ringleader, and Accomplices) that are fixed.
- Rotating Roles (Scout and Bodyguard) that pass round to round. The Scout and Bodyguard may be Friends or Conspiracy members.

SECRET ROLES

Friends: Your goal is to keep Mr. Coral alive by successfully disarming the Traps that have been laid for him. If a Trap is disarmed, it can't hurt Mr. Coral.

Conspiracy Ringleader: Your goal is to lure Mr. Coral to the Plot Location, but only after he has taken at least one damage and you have been chosen as the Bodyguard when the team visits that Location. To set off the Plot you need to be the right person (the Bodyguard), at the right time (after Mr. Coral has been injured), in the right place (the Plot Location).

Conspiracy Accomplices: Your goal is to help the Ringleader enact the Plot by convincing other players to trust the Ringleader, sabotaging attempts to disarm Traps, and keeping your identity hidden.

ROTATING ROLES

Scout: The Scout is the team leader for each round. This role always moves clockwise.

Bodyguard: The Bodyguard is chosen by the Scout. Whenever the team moves to a new Location, the Bodyguard gets to collect Clues from that Location. Depending on whether you're a Friend or a Conspiracy member, you may tell the truth about the information you've gathered or lie.

HOW TO PLAY A ROUND

The game is played in rounds. Every round consists of several phases:

- The Scout choosing a team of players and a Location to travel to on the board.
- All players voting on that team and Location, then traveling to the Location.
- Asking the table if the Plot was activated.
- The chosen team attempting to disarm the Trap at that Location.
- The Bodyguard collecting Clues after the Trap is removed.
- Distributing Supply Cards.
- If you want to dive in, begin play now while using the rest of the rules to guide your first round.

② VOTE

Once the team composition and Location are settled, everyone votes to approve by giving a thumbs up or thumbs down. Majority rules. If there's a tie, the vote fails.

If the vote passes

- Everyone who has been chosen for the team moves their pawn to the agreed-upon Location. The Bodyguard must also move Mr. Coral's pawn.
- If you are NOT going to the Location, move your pawn to the GATHER SUPPLIES HERE space on the board.
- Move on to CHECK THE PLOT.

If the vote fails

- Advance the Cloud Token one space on the Storm Tracker.

- A new round begins, and the role of Scout moves to the left (remember to pass the Scout and the new Scout follows the steps to CHOOSE A TEAM). The new team composition Location are voted on. If that vote passes, reset the Storm Tracker to zero.
- If there are three failed votes in a row, the storm interferes with your efforts to protect Mr. Coral, and he takes one damage. Move the Heart Token accordingly and reset the Storm Tracker to zero.

NOTE: If Mr. Coral dies from taking damage this way, see IF MR. CORAL IS KILLED BY TRAPS on page 12 and follow the instructions for that end state.

③ CHECK THE PLOT

After everyone has moved their pawns to either the chosen Location for the current round, or to the GATHER SUPPLIES HERE space, ask the table if the Plot has been activated. This can only happen if:

- Mr. Coral has taken at least one damage.
- The current Location is the one in the Ringleader's Identity Envelope.
- The Ringleader is the Bodyguard this round.

If the Plot was activated, the game is over and the Conspiracy wins.
If the Plot was NOT activated, move on to DISARM TRAPS.

ROLE LIMITS: If you have just been the Scout or Bodyguard, you cannot be either of those roles in the next round. Since the Scout always moves clockwise, if a player is next in line to be Scout but was just the Bodyguard, skip them and give the Scout Log to the player after them.

DISARM TRAPS

To disarm traps, you need Supply Cards.

- You may have up to three Supply Cards in your hand at any given time.
- All Supply Cards have a value of either 1 or 2. If the value is 2, that card will also have a suit:
- Traps also have a value and a suit. The value on a Trap Tile is the threshold you need to meet or beat to disarm that Trap.

You may talk about the Supply Cards in your hand by saying things like, "I can be helpful at the Infinity Pool, but not at the Hidden Cove." Try to avoid discussing the values and suits of your Supply Cards. If you're a Friend, this lets the other players know whether to bring you along on any given round and can help prove your innocence. If you're a Conspiracy member, you can lie about what's in your hand to gain the trust of the Friends and set yourself up to sabotage them.

to disarm a Trap:

Every player who has traveled to the Location, including the Scout, must submit one or more Supply Cards facedown to the Scout. If you want, you can even submit your entire hand of Supply Cards.

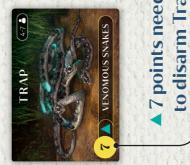

The Scout collects and shuffles the Supply Cards.

- The Scout then flips the Supply Cards over and adds up the total point value.
- Supply Cards with a value of 1 count toward disarming a Trap.
- Supply Cards that match a Trap's suit count toward disarming that Trap.
- Supply Cards that don't match the Trap's suit subtract from the total value of the submitted Supply Cards.

NOTE: If you're a Conspiracy member, submit Supply Cards that don't match the Trap's suit to prevent the Friends from disarming that Trap.

4. Did the total value of the submitted Supply Cards meet or beat the Trap's value?

Yes: The Trap is disarmed! Remove the Trap Tile from the board.

- You've failed to disarm that Trap, Mr. Coral unwittingly stumbles into it and is injured. Remove the Trap Tile from the board, and reduce Mr. Coral's Health Tracker by 1.

5. If Mr. Coral died this round, see END OF THE GAME. If not, proceed to COLLECT CLUES.

NOTE: The Trip Wire Explosive Trap shows both suits on it. This means that ALL Supply Cards count positively toward disarming that Trap.

COLLECT CLUES

- Whether or not the Trap was disarmed, the Bodyguard may now collect the Clue Cards on that Location and choose what information, if any, to share with the other players. DO NOT SHOW ANYONE YOUR CLUE CARDS.

THERE ARE FOUR KINDS OF CLUE CARDS TO FIND:

WEAPONS AND LOCATIONS: If you find a Weapon or Location, that means it's not part of the Plot and cannot be the murder weapon or plot location.

INSTANT DISARM: Keep this card until you are ready to use it after arriving at a Location. It instantly disarms a Trap at any Location without players needing to submit any Supply Cards. You may not want to tell the other players that you found one. IMPORTANT: Playing an Instant Disarm cannot prevent the Plot from being activated.

NO CLUE FOUND: Nothing to see here! Even the best sleuths can't find Clues that just aren't there.

- After telling the other players what they found (or lying about it!), the Bodyguard places their Clue Cards facedown in front of them. Also, if the Bodyguard claims that they found a Weapon or Location Clue Card, they take the matching token and keep it in front of them as a visual reminder to the group of who has seen what.

DISTRIBUTE SUPPLY CARDS

The Scout draws Supply Cards equal to the number of pawns (that includes Mr. Coral's pawn!) on the current Location, and then, without looking at them, distributes the Supply Cards however they choose among the players at that Location. This step always happens, even if an Instant Disarm Card was used to disarm the Trap.

- Any players who did not travel to the current Location may draw one Supply Card from the deck. Remember, the maximum hand size is 3. If you already have 3 cards, you may not draw or receive any more Supply cards.

END OF THE GAME

There are multiple ways to end and win this game for both the Friends and the Conspiracy.

ALL THE TRAPS ARE REMOVED

The Friends are able to travel to every location on the board and remove all nine

THE DIACTIVATED

- The Conspiracy is able to get Mr. Coral to the Plot Location while the Ringleader is the Bodyguard and after Mr. Coral has taken at least one damage (right person, right place, right time), the Plot

NOTE: If neither of the above outcomes happens, see next page for IF MR. CORAL IS KILLED BY TRAPS.

IF MR. CORAL IS KILLED BY TRAPS

If Mr. Coral's health is reduced to 0, the game is over, and players need to make a Final Accusation. For the Friends, this is the last chance to expose the Conspiracy's Plot and clear their own names. For the authorities, this is the last chance to net everyone with the murder and the authorities arrive.

Gameboard BACK

WHERE did they mean to kill Mr. Corral? WHERE did they mean to go?

- 4. All players (even those who weren't chosen for the last team) vote. Majority rules, but if any one is tied, the Scout gets to choose which of the two highest-tied options will be the group's final choice.

 - Once the group has agreed on a Weapon and Location, use their corresponding tokens to them on the board. Use Mr. Coral's pawn to mark which suspect you think is the Ringleader.

5. Once all the votes are settled, make your Final Accusation by saying, "It was (Character), in the (Location), with the (Weapon)." Then the Ringleader should reveal themselves and the cards in their Identity Envelope. If any of the three elements is incorrect, the Conspiracy will be exposed. If the Friends are able to correctly deduce all three elements they win and are able to turn the Conspiracy in to the authorities.

OUR-PLAYER RULES

In a four-player game, there are a few key differences.

SECRET ROLES

ASSIGN THE ROLES:

- Take two Friend cards, one Accomplice card, and the Ringleader card. Shuffle them, and deal one to each player.

- During setup as described in THE CONSPIRACY HATCHES THEIR PLOT, the Ringleader must still look at the Plot Location and Weapon, but the Accomplice should keep their eyes closed and not reveal themselves. The Conspiracy will not know who their partner is in this version of the game.

SUPPLY CARDS

- The maximum hand size is 4, instead of 3. You may still submit as many Supply Cards as you want when attempting to disarm a Trap.
- When the Scout collects the Supply Cards submitted by players during a disarming attempt, they should draw one Supply Card from the deck and add it to the pile before shuffling. Since it's random, that card could help or hurt the disarming attempt.

BODYGUARD

- The role of Bodyguard functions the same as in the core rules except that even if a player was just the Scout, they CAN be elected as the Bodyguard in the next round.
- A player cannot be the Bodyguard two turns in a row.

All other rules remain the same. Good luck!
